RECEPTION TO CLUBS

MRS. H. E. BARTLETT ENTERTAINS TUESDAY AFTERNOON CLUB AT HER HOME

Mrs. H. E. Bartlett, the beloved president of the Tuesday Afternoon club, entertained the members of the club and their friends at her beautiful home, 101 So. Brand boulevard, last Thursday afternoon. The guests were greeted at the door by Mrs. William Ramsay and Mrs. Clinton Booth. Receiving with Mrs. Bartlett were the members of her executive board, the Mesdames Daniel Campbell, E. H. Willisford, Frank Grosvenor, S. C. Packer, David Black, Harry Lynch, Lawrence Ellis, J. W. Usilton and H. Lee Clotworthy. Through the artistry of the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Frank Hester and Mrs. M. A. Begg, the Bartlett home was a bower of spring blossoms with pink and white Cherokee and Lady Banksia roses in fragrant profusion.

A delightful program was given throughout the afternoon. Mrs. David Edstrom, the talented sister of Mrs. C. E. Anderson, and wife of the famous Swedish sculptor, entertained the guests with an exceedingly interesting informal talk on Sweden. Mrs. Edstrom told of Sweden's fascinating legends and folk lore, traced the important epochs in her history, and named her famous men and women. Mrs. Edstrom was followed by a group of vocal selections given by Mr. and Mrs. Holmes Bishop, who are recent charming acquisitions to Glendale's professional musical talent. Mr. Bishop was formerly director of vocal music in the Montana State University. Mr. and Mrs. Bishop were ably accompanied at the piano by Mrs. H. Russel Boyer. Selections given by Mr. Bishop were:

Infelice ..... Verdi
Break, Break, Break....Marie Griffin

Mrs. Bishop sang "Connais tu le Pays" by Ambrose Thomas, and "My Soul Shall Sing" by Ray Lamont Smith. Mr. and Mrs. Bishop closed their program with two beautiful duets. Following the musical, Mrs. H. D. Goss gave two humorous Swedish readings and responded to an encore.

Mrs. Bartlett then invited her guests to the dining room, where dainty refreshments were served under the direction of Mrs. E. W. Richardson, chairman of Hospitality. Mrs. George Adams and Mrs. Jesse L. Joseph poured tea in the dining room, assisted by Mrs. R. A. Peterson. Mrs. S. C. Packer presided at the punch bowl on the porch, assisted by Mrs. Menzo Williams.

Though one of Glendale's largest social affairs, a delightful informality pervaded the afternoon, creating acquaintance and good fellowship, and reflecting great credit to the charming hostess of the afternoon and her able assistants.

VETERANS AND ODD FELLOWS BURY BROTHER

Rev. C. R. Norton, chaplain of N. P. Banks Post, and Rev. J. C. McKee, of the Baptist church, conducted beautiful and deeply impressive funeral services for Jacob S. Van Why, Monday afternoon, in the Jewel City undertaking parlors. Rev. J. H. Henry and Mrs. William Crawford rendered several solos, as did the quartette of the First Baptist church. Words of comfort and cheer were spoken by Rev. Norton and Rev. McKee, extolling the Christian life and virtues of this dear comrade and brother.

Mr. Van Why had been a lifelong member of the Oddfellows, having affiliated with that order devoted to charity and brotherly love when a very young man. He was also a veteran of the Civil War and was a member of N. P. Banks' Post. Ever faithful to all his moral and religious obligations, Jacob Van Why leaves a memory that is blessed and worthy of imitation by old and young alike.

The remains were followed to Forest Lawn cemetery where loving hands and sorrowing hearts consigned to Mother Earth Comrade Jacob Van Why. Many beautiful floral emblems covered the bier, all attesting the love and esteem in which Mr. Van Why was held. A widow, three sons and two daughters mourn the passing of a loving husband and father.

SCARCITY OF DYES

J. H. FANSET SAYS THE SITUATION REGARDING CHEMICAL DYESTUFFS IS WORSE THAN EVER

"Since moving into these new premises," said J. H. Fanset, of the Fanset Dye Works, 1108 W. Broadway, "I have had a large increase in the volume of my business. You can see that it is much easier to do business in these larger and more commodious quarters. This store was specially altered to make it convenient for my business. I now have two display windows which give us additional light in the interior and there have been other improvements that make it easier to carry on this work.

"So much has the business increased since I got into this new store that I have found it necessary to secure the services of Ray Good, who was formerly with the Berlin Dye Works of Los Angeles, and has had a large practical experience in the business in Los Angeles and its vicinity. Since Mr. Good's advent the business has picked up a great deal. He has been four years in connection with his business in this district and knows the whole situation well.

"Business is generally improved. Of that I am sure. I see a great many business people every day and they are all agreed on that point. I feel that other things being equal Glendale is going to have the most prosperous time of its consistently advancing career during the next few years.

"With regard to the dye situation it may be said that it is worse now than ever. The United States is manufacturing black dyes and some few other colors; but the vast number of brilliant dyestuffs that used to come from Germany have not been replaced by anything else. By and by it will be necessary to content oneself with very modest colors and a very modest number or variety of them.

"There are nine separate dyestuffs that are available in large quantities. These nine are being called on to do the work of 900 separate artificial dyestuffs, that have dropped out one by one. It is, of course, impossible that the nine available colors should take the place of the 900. The general use of these nine dyestuffs and their development and combination cannot be effected without patience on the part of the public and research. It was by research that the Germans managed to find out the dyestuffs that have created a great portion of their national wealth.

"Backed by capital and with time American chemists can discover what the Germans discovered; but it must be remembered that it took the Germans fifty years to discover, organize and systematize its output of dyestuffs. It must also be remembered that Britain is working on this problem also and the British government has given a large subsidy of $5,000,000 for research; so that this land has another competitor in this field.

"Meantime the lack of dyestuffs is making itself felt in the trade and what remains in the country of the dyestuffs imported before the war broke out is being hoarded and sold at enormously increased rates."

IS THE WORLD BETTER?

REV. W. E. EDMONDS SHOWS THAT REFORMATION IS NOT REGENERATION

World conditions in this age in their relation to the imminent return of the Lord was the theme of the teaching by Rev. W. E. Edmonds last evening at the Presbyterian church.

The question is being asked on every hand, is or is not the world growing better? The answer is, yes and no. If by better we mean is there more of man-made righteousness, the righteousness of the Scribes and Pharisees, yes. Many men in many places are looking at reformation and mistaking it for regeneration. A reformed man is received in polite society, clubs and lodges, be becomes an honorable citizen, builds libraries, but remains in the same lost condition in his relation to God. Men who are saying that pessimism and Christianity cannot go hand and hand, and the cry that the world is not growing better is un-Christian, show that they are taking a standard other than the word of God upon which to base their judgment.

No, the world is not growing better and can not do so only as individuals come out from the world and accept Jesus Christ, for "The whole world lieth in the wicked one."

This is a day when men are lovers of self, you do not need to look to the blood-stained battlefields of Europe to find selfishness personified; you need only look at your own doorstep. Greed, graft and covetousness are rampant on every hand. Never was human life so cheap as today. Thousands of men are swept into a godless eternity every day. Our papers are filled with murder and suicides. In 1850, two hundred fifty in one million were convicts in our prisons and penitentiaries. Today there are fourteen hundred to every million, and most of them young men. It is easy to see that disobedience to parents, teachers and those in authority is the air the children of today are breathing in.

That men love pleasure more than God we, in this fair land, know full well. They are mad with desire for pleasure.

There are more churches, more preaching, more benevolence for the deaf, the blind, the insane and the prisoners, all good but useless unless men are brought face to face with God to see their lost and undone condition. Sin ever remains sin, flesh can only reproduce flesh, the sin of the world is unbelief in the son of God, the sin of the church is indifference as to this unbelief in those all around us. The word of God deals with only three classes, the Jew, the church, the gathered out, and the world. The world is the unbeliever and God has no dealing with him as to reward; there is no salvation for him outside of the shed blood of Jesus Christ. The unconverted ones in the church of today are preaching and practicing those things that put to open shame the Master whom they profess to serve; they do not believe the plain scriptures and are swept away on the current of every ism of the day. Thank God the true believer does not continue in sin, he does not stay away from his Father, he is about his Father's business, watching and praying while he awaits the return of his Lord Jesus Christ.

The attendance at all three of the Bible classes show that there are those who are hungry for the true word of God and are just simple enough to believe that God says what he means and means what he says.

Send a child to the Pastor's Instruction Class on Wednesday afternoon at 3:15.

Dr. J. R. Pratt will take up the second lesson from the epistle to the Romans on Thursday evening.

MUSICAL PROGRAM

It is interesting to note that Miss Margaret Atwater, who gave so much pleasure to members of the Tuesday Afternoon club some weeks ago, is to sing two of Cadman's popular Indian songs and the aria from Madame Butterfly at the recital to be given by Madame N. R. Robbins and pupils this evening. Miss Rachel Smith, who sang with the Robinette club a year ago and endeared herself to the public, will sing Vissi d'arte from Puccini's La Tosca. Miss Lillian Bachstrand, a graduate from the college of music will sing the Waltz song from Romeo and Juliet. The first part of the program will be devoted to songs in English by American composers. Mrs. Roy W. Masters, the talented pianist of Glendale, will accompany some of the difficult operatic numbers. You are invited to hear this program.

TODD'S SINGING WINS

MUSICAL EVANGELIST AT FIRST M. E. CHURCH A SUCCESS

The meeting last evening at the First Methodist church took on new interest with the arrival of Mr. S. E. Todd, who will lead the singing this week. Mr. Todd said, "People accuse me of singing with my hands, with my feet and with my voice. I cannot help it. I feel it and it has got to find an outlet. We want everybody to get into the music of this service." In response to this appeal and under his spirited leadership the congregation "got into the game."

Evangelist Ireland being still indisposed, the pastor, B. Dudley Snudden, preached. He took as his theme, "The Two Mysteries." He emphasized the mystery of iniquity. He said it was mysterious in its magnetic power, in its contradictions and its transformations. He showed how sin casts its spell over men. Opposed to the mystery of iniquity was the mystery of Godliness. It is mysterious in its power, its practice and its compensations.

Mr. Ireland may be able to preach this evening, but it is not certain. The service, however, promises to be of great interest. All should hear Mr. Todd sing.

Morning meetings are being held in the church at 10 o'clock.

HIGH SCHOOL PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATION

A very interesting session of the Glendale Union High School Parent-Teacher association was held Monday afternoon, at the school, with Fred E. Hagin, president, presiding.

The musical numbers were presented by a trio composed of Isaiah Sinclair, Eleanor Barrows and Florence Heacock, and won the approval of the large number in attendance, of patrons and friends of the school.

Mrs. C. H. Ritchie, district president of the Parent-Teacher associations, gave a most interesting, as well as instructive, talk on the aims and purposes of the Congress of Mothers. Mrs. Ritchie presented in a most charming manner many clever suggestions and the relation existing between the Congress of Mothers and the Parent-Teacher association. Other interesting features of the program were the selections of members to serve on the nominating board, the election of delegates to the District convention of the P. T. A., which will be held in Los Angeles Thursday and Friday, April 27 and 28, inclusive, and the selection of Mrs. Fred E. Hagin, president, representative of the Glendale Union High School Parent-Teacher association to the nominating committee of the Federation, which convenes in May. Delegates selected for the District convention include Mrs. Fred E. Hagin, alternate, Mrs. T. W. Preston; Mrs. McLean, alternate Mrs. David H. Imler; Mrs. Ben Nichols, alternate Mrs. Greeley Kolts.

The nominating committee appointed consists of Prof. George U. Moyse, Mrs. Ellen W. Richardson and Mrs. Greeley Koltz. The election of officers for the ensuing year will be held at the May meeting of the P. T. A. The enthusiasm and excellent object and aim of this association is manifested by the fact that the membership now includes 79 of the parents and patrons, with additional members enrolling at each meeting.

WORK ON WATER SYSTEM

Two carloads of 20-inch cast iron pipe, for use in the city mains, arrived Monday morning and the pipe is now being delivered on Doran street for the new Doran street service.

At the submerged dam in Verdugo canyon the pipe is being cleaned out so as to insure the delivery of a larger volume of water.

Work is being prosecuted on the removal of the old electric light poles on Brand boulevard between First street and the city limits. When this has been done the ornamental lighting of the boulevard will be complete.

CHART OF WEATHER

According to a weather record chart that can be seen at the city hall the average daily maximum temperature during January was 57 degrees; in February 68, in March 72. The hottest day of the year thus far has been March 10, when the thermometer registered 97 degrees and the people testified that it was more than 100. These temperatures are taken on the top of one of the high buildings in Los Angeles and do not represent the temperature on hte street level nor on the hillsides of Glendale.

MEXICO—A SERIOUS PROBLEM

As time goes on the chase after Villa develops serious aspects. There has never been a time that the Mexicans looked with favor on the invasion of their country by American troops. Carranza, conscious that he owed a great deal to President Wilson, whose stand against recognition of Huerta gave Carranza his chance, with much reluctance gave a qualified assent to the entrance of American soldiers into Mexico to act in consonance with Mexican troops in the hunt for the elusive bandit of the Sierras.

Had the United States been prepared for emergencies on the border there is no doubt that Villa would never have dared to attack Columbus, New Mexico. Had there been a greater measure of preparedness and less red tape at Washington, D. C., the American troops on the border would have been hot on the heels of the bandit and would have run him down before he had a chance to get into his native fastnesses.

As the matter stands at present the American troops are 250 miles into Mexico and have not as yet got anywhere in touch with Villa's main command. That, at least, is what Gen. Funston indicates in his latest communication. All along Funston has been warning the United States not to expect too much of the hunt for Villa. The general's latest communication states that Villa is by no means "surrounded" as the more sensational newspapers have been stating for days past. Funston says that he has not sufficient troops to surround the bandit in the mountainous region in which he is thought to have taken refuge.

Reports to the effect that Villa has been wounded have not been confirmed. Indeed they have been flatly contradicted by some Americans who profess to know on good authority that Villa is still in active command of troops somewhere.

According to the latest reports Gen. Obregon, who is one of Mexico's strong men, is bitterly opposed to Carranza's policy of permitting American troops into the country. Obregon is reported to have said that he would join Diaz, Zapata and even Villa in ousting the Americans. The prize of successful ousting of the Americans is supposed to be the actual presidentship of Mexico. Whether this is true or not there seems to be no doubt that the Mexicans in general look upon Villa as a hero and will not lift a hand against him.

It is stated on credible authority that during the American pursuit of Villa the Carranzistas twice had the opportunity to place a barrier in the bandit's path and that they permitted him to go through their troops unmolested. Should Villa not be captured, and the hunt is being unusually prolonged, as the territory in which it is being conducted is extremely rough and mountainous, the position of the American troops will become difficult if not dangerous.

Every day adds to the difficulties of the American columns and meanwhile the irritation of the Mexicans, cunningly fomented by interested parties in the United States as well as in Mexico, is increasing. There is, as Gen. Funston hints, danger of an outbreak against the Americans and it will require a very delicate hand to prevent such a climax to the present situation. The need for preparedness becomes more manifest daily.

Lankershim is a lucky fruit district. We just read in the Hemet paper that the last cars of dried 'cots, consisting of 110 tons, had been shipped to New York. Within one month after the drying season every pound of dried 'cots in this district had been shipped and the growers had their money. Every product raised here always finds a ready market, and nothing is ever carried over to shrink away or go down in price. Lankershim Laconic.

GROWTH OF RUBBER INDUSTRY

The world's production of crude rubber last year amounted to 142,000 tons. This is a substantial increase over 1914. Of this amount of rubber 75,000 tons is sued in the United States, and of that amount more than one-half finds its way into Akron, O., the home of the tire industry. It is a matter of record that in 1905 75,000 acres of land were devoted to rubber culture, and in 1915 there were 1,330,000 acres devoted to this industry.

SALE OF FOOTHILL ACREAGE

Mrs. Nanno Woods, 1111 W. Broadway, has effected the sale of a home site, consisting of three and a half acres of fine land, adjoining the Daniel Campbell property on Kenneth road. The property just sold, in fact, lies between the Campbell and Thompson holdings, at the foot of the Brand property. This acreage has been in the possession of Robert Symmonds of Hollywood, who bought it and improved it and made a very fine place out of it. Space has been left for the erection of a house.

Through Mrs. Woods' instrumentality this fine property has been sold to Mr. T. N. Jamieson of Chicago and Pasadena. The purchase price is not mentioned but it is known that adjoining property in that neighborhood is held at between $3000 and $5000 an acre.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Blakemore of Pomona and Mrs. Wm. Blakemore of this city are luncheon guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Harrison, 425 S. Kenwood, today.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Van Dyke, 1430 W. Third street, spent last Saturday on Mt. Lowe. They had a pleasant ascent and enjoyed the scenery and the mountain air.

Edward M. Lynch, city engineer, who has been suffering from a boil for some time past, and confined to his house, is now able to come down to his office a short time each day.

Mrs. Benjamin F. Logan, who has been visiting her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Jackson, 102 S. Maryland avenue, and other friends in Southern California, left Monday for her home in Kentucky.

Mrs. O. E. Von Oven, Mrs. W. D. McRae, Mrs. W. S. Alond and Mrs. G. W. Colson of the local Congregational church, leave tomorrow for Pomona as delegates to the Annual meeting of the Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary Societies of the Churches of Southern California.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Yarick, 1447 W. Third street, entertained at dinner, Monday evening, the Rev. E. H. Willisford, Mrs. Willisford, Miss Carol Willisford, Joy Willisford, and Mr. J. D. VICTIMS OF AUTO ACCIDENT

Dorothy Bonnell, who was so seriously injured in the auto accident Wednesday night last week, was thought last night to show signs of returning consciousness, but this morning she was still unconscious. Mrs. Sloan continues to improve.

MRS. CADWALDER LAID TO REST

Beautiful and impressive were the funeral services of Mrs. Eliza P. Cadwalder, that were held in the Jewel City Undertaking parlors Monday afternoon, and were conducted by Rev. W. E. Edmonds and Rev. H. J. Hartsell. Mrs. Cadwalder, who was a native of Philadelphia, passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. C. W. Fourall, 1321 Hawthorne street, Saturday afternoon.

The deceased is survived by the daughter, who is the only relative of this noble Christian woman. Mrs. Cadwalder was a most benevolent and philanthropic woman and gave freely of her abundance of this world's goods.

During her years of residence in her native city Mrs. Cadwalder not only built a handsome church, but furnished it completely and then paid the minister's salary, thus giving of her wealth that the Gospel of Christ might be spread and she could give to the seekers of Truth a place of worship and a teacher to enlighten them in the paths of righteousness.

Following the ceremonies at the chapel, the remains were conveyed to forest Lawn cemetery, where they now rest beneath a mound of many beautiful flowers and floral emblems.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

"Choice, not chance, spells success." Such was the opening statement by C. A. Gummere in his splendid address at the Congregational church Sunday evening. The story of Moses formed the text for the heart-gripping address.

It is not often that a speaker holds the attention so closely as did Gummere. A few of the many striking sentences are the following: "You are saved for service. Many are planning to do something big after a time. Ninety-seven out of 100 such fail even to do anything worth while. Go at once to the job. The first call of Christ was 'Come,' the second, 'Go.'

The choice of Moses was one of maturity and deliberation. It involved both will and intellect. Moses turned deliberately from the pleasures of the palace to the responsibilities of the hour. He was a man with an iron jaw.

"Because many professed Christians are playing on the job, the coming of the Kingdom is delayed. Last year England in spite of her heavy war burdens and debts trebled her contributions for missions, while the United States in peace and prosperity increased only 10 per cent. God make us big in our positions."

Dr. Willisford's sermon in the morning was an earnest and eloquent plea for the exercise of the spirit of forgiveness. "The man who refuses to forgive suffers the loss of friends and the fellowship of God. Only as men are willing to forgive will they enjoy the foregiveness of God."

Next Sunday evening T. Suchiyena, the "Twice-born" Japanese, will be the speaker. "Tom," as he is generally known, has a most remarkable story of his conversion to relate. The local Japanese are especially invited to this service.

TROPICO

Mrs. E. B. Moore, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. David Moncton and family, left for Uplands this morning to attend a mass missionary meeting of the Nazarene Church.

Guy Maxwell, who has been spending several weeks in Yucca and vicinity, returned Sunday evening for a few days' visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James R. Maxwell of West Park avenue. Mr. Maxwell reports much excitement in Yucca and that the gold mines as well as the tungsten properties are booming and many rich and valuable properties are being discovered.

Mrs. R. L. Kennedy of 309 West Tenth street has returned from Long Beach, where she was the guest of her mother, Mrs. Harriet Weir, for several days.

Frank Ashton and Kenneth A. Wilbur have returned from Yucca, where they spent several weeks, in the interests of various mining properties located in Yucca and vicinity.

Miss Ruth Mitchell, supervisor of music in the Tropico schools, and Miss Irene Ward, a young violinist, will assist Mrs. R. C. Kennedy, Wednesday afternoon, at the reception which Mrs. Kennedy contemplates giving at her home, 309 West 10th street.

Rev. R. T. Smith of the University of Southern California, formerly pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church of Tropico, delivered a most eloquent sermon in the Nazarene church of Los Angeles Sunday morning.

GLENDALE FOOTHILLS

One of the most enjoyable parties ever given at Casa Verdugo cafe was a surprise party given to Miss Viola Yorba on the occasion of her birthday, Thursday last week. Miss Yorba's friends presented her with many appropriate gifts and the evening was spent in music and dancing. Those who constituted the party were: Miss Duffus of New York, Miss Marguerite Studebaker of Los Angeles, Mrs. Steel and Miss Steel of Boyle Heights, Los Angeles; Miss Rubio of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. Yorba of Pasadena, Mrs. McGinnis, Ernest McGinnis and Lionel McGinnis.

Mr. Dreir of Pasadena entertained a large party of his friends Sunday at Casa Verdugo.

Mrs. J. C. Rice of Ruth street is confined to her home by a severe attack of acute tonsilitis. She is attended by Dr. Eckles.

Warning to The Public!

Your home dairymen sell the residents of Glendale, Tropico and North Glendale BETTER, FRESHER and CLEANER Milk and Cream than does any outside firm.

Local dairies are under rigid inspection and the public is invited to visit any of them at any time—where outside concerns secure their milk from many small producers scattered within a 150 miles of Los Angeles. While this milk may be bottled in a sanitary plant, it is not necessarily produced under sanitary conditions.

Fresh raw milk, is delivered by local dairies twice daily, within two hours of milking at 10c a quart, while a large creamery which is soliciting business on pasteurized milk at 8c a quart, delivers once a day—milk that is from 24 to 36 hours old. If this milk were not pasteurized, it would not be fit for human consumption when delivered at your home. Special raw milk, similar to the milk local dairies deliver to their patrons, costs 12c per quart when secured from city dairies.

Don't be misled by smooth-talking solicitors. Have your local milk tested in comparison with that of outside dairies by your physician. Abide by his findings.

By giving your local dairyman a square deal you will eliminate the danger of San Fernando Valley being controlled by the alleged Milk Trust which has forced the price of fresh, raw milk to 12c per quart in Los Angeles, Hollywood and Pasadena.

Protect the health of your family and keep the price of fresh, raw milk at no more than 10c per quart in Glendale, Tropico and Casa Verdugo, by patronizing any of the following dairymen, who deliver fresh milk every morning and evening:—
